RMJM is the world's largest network of its kind serving private, corporate and institutional clients in the real estate sector industry. With more than 2000 people in five continents, our studios link into the extensive international expertise available across our network of studios to deliver our client's needs in the location of their projects.

The RMJM network offers a wide cultural and creative diversity. We are united by our aim to exceed our client's expectations and by our passion for excellence in providing sustainable design solutions, continuing in the spirit and vision founded in 1956 by Robert Matthew and Stirrat Johnson-Marshall.
